UPDATE:
Council committed to Druids Heath
despite unsuccessful
Levelling Up bid

FEBRUARY 2023

Last summer we submitted a strong and ambitious bid for Levelling Up funding aimed at kick-starting the regeneration of Druids Heath.

In January, Government announced that our £20 million Levelling Up Fund Bid was unsuccessful. We're disappointed but Birmingham City Council remain fully committed to progressing plans to deliver on the bold vision to create real and lasting change for the community.

Paul Kitson, Strategic Director Of Place, Prosperity And Sustainability said: "I'm really disappointed that our Levelling Up bid for Druids Heath was unsuccessful. We are determined to continue with a holistic regeneration programme for the long term benefit of the residents."

Debbie Greenhill, Project Director – Druids Heath regeneration said: "We are still committed to delivering the vision and creating a Druids Heath that residents can be proud of. We'll continue to look for alternative funding to drive the regeneration forward".

South of Druids Heath to be included in the regeneration masterplan

We now have permission to bring the South of the estate into the holistic regeneration so that we can maximise opportunities and work together to create a masterplan for all of Druids Heath. We'll update the masterplan from your feedback soon.
